

The Ten Best Beauty gadgets

CHOSEN BY BETH DADSWELL

1. Bliss
Skin can become congested in damp, polluted city winters, and the 'Pore-factor' face treatment uses sonic vibrations to loosen any nasty debris. £125, www.blissworld.co.uk

2. Toni & Guy
With five heat and speed settings displayed digitally on the side, and a 2,000W power output, this hairdryer is ideal if you're in a rush. £39.99, www.toniandguy.com

3. Tanda Clear
Simple to use at home, the Tanda Clear emits LED light to clear up breakouts. Charge it up overnight, then hold onto problem areas for three minutes twice a day. £225, www.harveynichols.com

4. Philips
Investing in a laser hair-removal gadget will save you thousands of pounds in the long term. No more expensive visits to the salon for painful, embarrassing waxing treatments! £399, www.boots.com

5. Estée Lauder
The TurboLash All Effects Motion mascara is perfect bling on a budget. The applicator brush gently vibrates to coat every lash from all angles. £28.50, www.esteelauder.co.uk

6. WAM
This WAM Hybrid Styling Iron uses universal voltage, so is perfect for travelling. Every purchase comes with a free styling lesson at the hip Windle salon in Covent Garden too. £120, www.wamhair.com

7. Sarah Chapman
The Facialift is a massaging tool with eight heads, designed to mimic the unique pinching and tapping technique of Chapman's signature facial. £24, www.spacenk.co.uk

8. Braun
The Oral B Professional Care 3000 Electric toothbrush is well priced and great at removing plaque and cleaning your teeth thoroughly, with 'daily use', 'sensitive' and 'polish' modes. £49.99, www.boots.com

9. Slendertone Face
Expensive but still cheaper than Botox, this tightens facial muscles by emitting small, electrical charges. £300, www.harrods.com

10. Clarisonic Plus
For those who wear a lot of makeup, the Clarisonic Plus uses a vibrating brush to cleanse and exfoliate your skin in just 60 seconds. £175, www.selfridges.com

THE FASHION AUDIT

We love Uniqlo +J

The latest drop has arrived in store and Jil Sander's effortless, minimal and sports-luxe pieces are perfect for snuggling in as the weather turns nasty. Once again, a camel coat is top of the crop - but look out also for boxy blazers and streamlined puffas. £149, Uniqlo.com

We're not sure The snuggle suit

Hold the phone - The Audit's most favourite TV-watching garb has supposedly been usurped by a young pretender. The heavenly slanket (that's a blanket with sleeves if you don't already know) provides perfect warmth and ample coverage, without the restriction of an actual garment. But the all-new Snuggle Suit? Bah! It's just like a pair of fleecy pyjamas. Where's your sense of adventure?

We're buying Golden Solstice

Anyone desperately clinging on to summer will have been defeated by the recent dark mornings and finger-numbing temperatures, but this solstice candle will summon balmy days, with essence of bergamot, lemon, tangerine and blackcurrant to energise SAD souls. £35, Moltonbrown.co.uk

We can't wait for CSM Topshop

It's not every day we're able to snap up some grad-rags whenever we feel like it. But Topshop is launching a Central Saint Martins capsule at the end of the month, with pieces by the acclaimed graduates Lilly Heine (right) and Simone Rocha, daughter of John. Do your homework and get ahead! Dress £300, Topshop.com
